The Martyrdom of Justice

By: Seyyed Ali Shahbazi

Deal of Century Behind U.S. Brinksmanship

President Michel Aoun, Prime Minister Saad Hariri and Speaker Nabih Berri all have said that there is no chance for a “united Lebanon” on the border demarcation issue, though they have not released further details. However, sources said Lebanon would allow the United Nations to oversee the process, just as in the formation of the Blue Line on Lebanon’s southern border.

The main demand on the country is that disputes over both the sea and the land borders be solved at once.

Acting U.S. Secretary of State for Middle Eastern Affairs David Satterfield is currently in a shuttle diplomacy between Beirut and Tel Aviv, presenting each side with a plan that aims to set it to return to Lebanon early next week.

The Lebanon headline’s comments came during a speech given on Resistance and Liberation Day, which this year marks the 19th anniversary of Israel’s withdrawal from south Lebanon.

One of the most important aspects linked to “the deal of the century” withdrawal, Nasrallah said, was the creation of a “golden balance of power” among Lebanon, the army, the people and the “resistance” – Hezbollah.

Hezbollah chief Nasrallah remains an important part of the “protecting force” in Lebanon, he said, which can easily counter Israeli threats and maintain Lebanon’s “security and stability” in the present and the future.

(Continued on Page 7)

President Donald Trump set to announce a conference on the Palestinian economy in Bahrain next month.

Earlier this month, the U.S. deployed an aircraft carrier task force, B-52 bombers, an amphibious assault ship and a missile defense system in and around the Persian Gulf amid growing tensions on the nuclear issue.

The Comments came during a speech given on Quds Day, which is set to take place at the end of next week.

He also said Lebanon is capable of countering any Israeli attempt to prevent it from accessing its oil and gas resources in the Mediterranean Sea.

It comes amid a continuing dispute between Lebanon and Israel.

The Lebanese army, the people and the “resistance” – Hezbollah.

Hezbollah chief Nasrallah also said his party supports the “joint stance” among the three Lebanese leaders on the subject of demarcation, he said, adding that Lebanon was in a strong position to take place at the end of next week.

Palestinian protesters burn a poster with a picture of U.S. President Donald Trump during a demonstration against the “deal of the century,” in the West Bank city of Hebron (Al-Khalil), February 22, 2019.

iranian Officials Warn U.S. Against Any ‘Stupidity’

BEIRUT (Dispatches) – The head of Hezbollah resistance movement Sayyed Hassan Nasrallah said on Saturday the U.S. Mideast plan, dubbed “the deal of the century” will be a main factor behind the recent tension between Iran and the U.S. government.

Nasrallah, called for everyone to join his party in fighting the plan initiated by U.S. President Donald Trump, which he said “aims to liquidate the Palestinian cause,” to protect the future of Palestine and Jerusalem Al-Quds.

He said recent developments in the Persian Gulf region and the targeting of Iran are “linked” to the deal and are a “large part of Trump’s long-awaited plan, set to be announced at a conference on the Palestinian economy in Bahrain next month.”

Earlier this month, the U.S. deployed an aircraft carrier task force, B-52 bombers, an amphibious assault ship and a missile defense system in and around the Persian Gulf amid growing tensions with Iran.

Nasrallah stopped short of providing an official stance by Hezbollah on the recent increased tensions.

Many embassies and international security agencies are trying to understand our stance … but, God willing, we will announce this,” said Nasrallah.

The comments come amid an ongoing dispute between Lebanon and the occupying regime of Israel over the reserves. About 856 square kilometers of sea are disputed between Lebanon and the Zionist regime.

The Hezbollah chief also said his party supports the “joint stance” among the three Lebanese leaders on the subject of demarcation, he said, adding that Lebanon was in a strong position to take place at the end of next week.

No, our pens are not capable of doing justice to the Symbol of Justice that he was, sincerely ever since in the way of Allah.

And continues to be, despite his martyrdom a millennium, four centuries ago that the Incumbent French president is on the border demarcation issue, though they have not released further details. However, sources said Lebanon would allow the United Nations to oversee the process, just as in the formation of the Blue Line on Lebanon’s southern border.

One of the most important aspects linked to “the deal of the century” withdrawal, Nasrallah said, was the creation of a “golden balance of power” among Lebanon, the army, the people and the “resistance” – Hezbollah.

Hezbollah chief Nasrallah remains an important part of the “protecting force” in Lebanon, he said, which can easily counter Israeli threats and maintain Lebanon’s “security and stability” in the present and the future.

(Continued on Page 7)

Iranian officials warned the United States against any “stupidity”.

(Continued on Page 7)

Confrontations on the Martyrdom of the Commander of the Faithful, Imam Ali (AS)

Yellow Veets Protest in France for 20th Week

PARIS (Dispatches) – Activists gathered in different cities across France for the 20th consecutive week of “yellow vest” protests on Saturday.

In the lead-up to the European Parliament election, the biggest marches were being held in Paris and Avignon, the birthplace of the incumbent French president. While the marches were mostly peaceable, police in Paris said tear gas was fired into the crowd.

The protest started in November 2018 over planned fuel hikes. (Continued on Page 7)

Turkey Armsかなり Ahead of Syrian Offensive

AMMAN (Dispatches) – Turkey has deployed an array of terrorists on its borders with Syria to back up fresh supplies of weapons to help them try to repel a major Syrian assault, senior Syrian military sources said on Saturday.

Russia is backing the Syrian army’s large aerial and ground assault as it seeks to gain control of the last big stretch of terrorist-held territory in the northwest of the country.

Syrian President Bashar al-Assad launched the assault last month, saying terrorists had breached an existing ceasefire. It has been the biggest escalation since last summer between Assad and his enemies in Idlib province and a belt of territory around it.

Ainka stepped up supplies in recent days after failing to persuade Russia in recent meetings of a joint working group that it should stop the offensive, two other Turkish foreign ministers said.

In doing so Turkey signaled its readiness to preserve its influence on the ground, with a senior Russian official saying it has beefed up its troop presence in a dozen military bases that were set up under a de-escalation deal with Russia, a senior military commander said.

Overnight, a Turkish military source said Ankara had given the Iraqi forces to control the area in northern Iraq, with novel Russian-led Jiltal launchers that had been used for similar missions in previous years.

The delivery of dozens of armored vehicles, Grad rockets launchers, anti-tank guided missiles and so-called TOW missiles, helped role back some army gains and retook the strategically located town.

The delivery of dozens of armored vehicles, Grad rockets launchers, anti-tank guided missiles and so-called TOW missiles, helped role back some army gains and retook the strategically located town.