Paragon Par-Excellence for All Virtuous Ladies and Girls

Salaam dear young friends. Heartfelt condolences to you all on the anniversary of a very doleful day. Yesterday was 13th of Jamadi al-Awwal, the day on which, according to a narration, the Noblest-Ever Lady left the world a martyr, seventy-five days after the passing away of her Illustrious Father.

She was none other than Hazrat Fatema Zahra (SA), the Immaculate Daughter of the Almighty’s Last and Greatest Messenger, Prophet Muhammad (SAWA).

Most of us are clad in black to commemorate this tragedy, while mourning ceremonies are underway at mosques, hussainiyahs, and homes, as well as at offices, and on radio and TV channels.

The discourses on the life and times of this Great Lady who was martyred in the prime of her youth while defending the “wilayah” or divinely-decreed right of leadership of her Infallible Husband, Imam Ali ibn Abi Taleb (AS), enlighten us, especially children and youngsters, on the dynamic personality of this paragon par-excellence of virtue.

She left behind four young children – two sons and two daughters – and had instilled in them the essence of faith and humanitarian values to such an extent that on growing up, Imam Hasan (AS), Imam Husain (AS), Hazrat Zainab (SA) and Hazrat Omm Kolthoum, in their own unique way, left as lasting legacy for mankind the bezels of wisdom, courage, magnanimity, honesty, modesty, piety, patience, steadfastness, and devotion to the commandments of the One and Only Creator.

In Islamic societies, whether in Iran or any other country, the fact that women and young girls – at schools, colleges, offices, recreation centres, and in all public places – observe the freedom of Hijab, is ample proof of their sense of liberty in its real sense, which is too great a treasure to be squandered on the altar of slavery to the depraved culture of the West.

Yes, dear sisters and nieces, maintain and safeguard these qualities that are passwords to the opening of the gates of paradise.

Well dear friends, yesterday happened to be the 13th of Aban on which crucial events occurred in the history of the Islamic Revolution in Iran.

It was the day that shattered the idol of arrogance, that is the US, and with the capture of the Den of Spies by revolutionary students, it made Washington bite the dust. Iranians and dedicated Muslims all over the world will forever commemorate this day with jubilation for the fall of the Great Satan.

It was a master stroke of revolutionary strategy that ensured the stability of the newfound Islamic Republic and has continued to be the source of strength for the Iranian people. The Father of the Islamic Revolution, Imam Khomeini (RA), had hailed the heroic takeover of the US embassy in Tehran in 1979 by Muslim students as the “Second Revolution”.

Meanwhile, in 1978 on this fateful day of Aban 13, when it was clear to all that it was only a matter of time for the Pahlavi regime to be swept into oblivion, the US stooge at the behest of his overlords in Washington ordered the massacre of students at Tehran University who were staging a peaceful rally calling for the return home from exile of their beloved leader, Imam Khomeini. The bloody event backfire so badly on US designs that two months later the hated Shah was forced to flee Iran, and on February 1, the Imam returned to lead the Islamic Revolution to its resounding triumph.

God bless you all and good-bye till next week.

RIDDLES

Dear youngsters, could you answer the following questions.

1. I like to twirl my body but keep my head up high. After I go in, everything becomes tight. What am I?
2. I am gentle enough to soothe your skin, light enough to fly in the sky, strong enough to crack rocks. What am I?
3. I can fly but I have no wings. I can cry but I have no eyes. Wherever I go, darkness follows me. What am I?
4. Although I may have eyes, I cannot see. I have a round brown face with lots of acne. What am I?
5. I eat, I live, I breathe, I live, I drink, I die. What am I?
6. I am a seed with three letters in my name. Take away the last two and I still sound the same. What am I?

JOKES

Teacher said the students to convert the sentence “I killed a person” into future tense. Suddenly Johnny stands up and said, Sir the future tense is “U will go to jail”!

Teacher: Which one is closer, Sun or Africa?

Johnny: Sun

Teacher: Why?

Johnny: We can see the sun all the time, but can’t see Africa.

While taking a routine vandalism report at an elementary school, a police officer was interrupted by a little girl about six years old. Looking up and down at his uniform, she asked, “Are you a police officer?”

“Yes,” He answered, and continued writing the report.

“My mother said if I ever needed help I should ask the police. Is that right?”

“Yes, that’s right,” He told her.

“Well, then,” she said as she extended her foot towards him, “would you please tie my shoe?”

The Dogs and the Hides

Some dogs, famished with hunger, saw some cow-hides steeping in a river.

Not being able to reach them, they agreed to drink up the river.

But it fell out that they burst themselves with drinking long before they reached the hides.
