Imam Husain (AS)

"If you don't have religion, at least be free men in your worldly affairs."

A Time to Remember Courage and Compassion

Salaam dear young friends, hope you are all doing well by the Grace of Almighty Lord.

The blessed month of Muharram fills the hearts of millions of devotees with love, remembrance, and devotion to the grandson and 3rd infallible successor of Prophet Mohammad (SAWA).

Imam Husain (AS) along with his companions and family members sacrificed everything in Karbala to protect the true teachings of Islam. Their courage continues to inspire people of every generation.

Muharram teaches us that telling the truth, helping those in need, respecting our parents, praying regularly, and standing against injustice are among the greatest acts of faith. Even children can follow the beautiful example of Imam Husain (AS) by being honest, kind, patient, and caring toward everyone.

As our young readers know, this year's Muharram is especially significant for many people in Iran and around the world, because it comes at a time when they are mourning the martyrdom of the Leader of the Islamic Revolution Ayatollah Seyyed Ali Khamenei.

Funeral ceremonies were held in Tehran, Qom, and the holy cities of Najaf and Karbala. Millions of people gathered to pay their respects and bid farewell to the martyred leader. He will be buried in the Haram of the eighth infallible successor of Prophet Mohammad (SAWA), Imam Reza (AS), in the holy city of Mashhad.

One remarkable aspect of the funeral was the significant number of teenagers and young adults born in the 1990s, 2000s, and 2010s in attendance. Many of these individuals grew up hearing the words and guidance of the martyred Leader and stood shoulder to shoulder with the early generations of the Revolution. This portrayed a continuation of its path and ideals.

Qom was not merely hosting a funeral procession; the city became a scene of devotion, loyalty, and national solidarity as millions took part in another historic chapter of the Islamic Revolution's legacy. This farewell ceremony is expected to be remembered as a significant event in the world's historical record.

From the early hours of Tuesday morning, the seven-kilometer route between the Holy Jamkaran Mosque and the Holy Shrine of Hazrat Fatima Ma'suma was filled from beginning to end with people gathered to bid their final farewell to the martyred leader.

May Allah bless all who remember Imam Husain (AS) with sincerity and grant peace to the departed souls. May the light of Karbala always guide us to become truthful, compassionate, and faithful Muslims.

That's all for this week. Goodbye until next week!

RIDDLES

Dear youngsters, could you answer the following questions.

- Sometimes dark and sometimes bright, I make my way among twinkling lights. Seas and oceans obey my call, yet mountains I cannot move at all. My face is marred and gray, but I'm majestic anyway. What am I?
- I have married many woman but has never been married. What am I?
- I am the only word that looks the same when spelled upside down. What am I?
- Whoever makes it, tells it not. Whoever takes it, knows it not. Whoever knows it, wants it not. What am I?
- I am an English word with 3 consecutive double letters. What am I?
- I move without wings, between silken strings. I leave as you find my substance behind. What am I?

The One-Eyed Doe

A Doe had had the misfortune to lose one of her eyes, and could not see any one approaching her on that side.

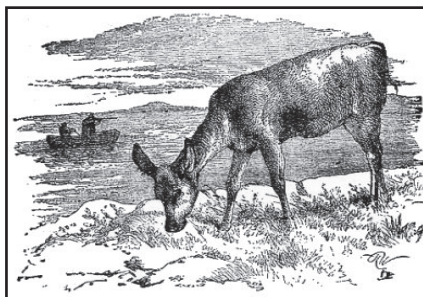

So to avoid any danger she always used to feed on a high cliff near the sea, with her sound eye looking towards the land.

By this means she could see whenever the hunters approached her on land, and often escaped by this means.

But the hunters found out that she was blind of one eye, and hiring a boat rowed under the cliff where she used to feed and shot her from the sea.

"Ah," cried she with her dying voice: "You cannot escape your fate."

MORAL: "You cannot escape your fate"
